Homily November 13

the end is coming, the end is coming. We don't know when. The sun could last another couple million years. Yet it is a fact. It will end. Jesus gives us hints that will take place first. The problem is those things have been happening throughout history. For us, we have simply become numb to all those events. Wars, earthquakes, there have been a number here in southern mo. Just this past month, hurricanes, Ian ravaged the east coast and another is hitting Florida now. But, if you can imagine people in Jesus' days during the Pax Romana, haven't even been aware of war for a long time. Any of these events Jesus mentioned could be used by some charismatic person to think the end is coming and you need to turn to them for help. That still happens in our own day. Some of you can remember Jimmy Jones and how he led many of his followers to their death. The scriptures are warning against being sucked in by such. The important thing is, are you prepared right now? Not tomorrow, or next month, but right now. We seek to go to sleep in peace every night knowing we are in the hands of God. Are you prepared?

Great News: you can now give whenever amount you want in a very easy way. Just click on this qr code. You can fill out a quick simple way to track your on line giving and which events you want to support. Including mass intentions. Just list who you wish to be remembered in the box. Fr dan

Outreach for September : Rent 125.00 utilities 1017.00 11 families Gas Vouchers 73 @ 25.00 motel 50.00 meds 33.00 == $ 3042.00

FAST: Join me for a fast for the sake of those out of the church. Use whatever days and whatever would be a fast for you. I will be fasting with 1 meal a day and no snacks on Tues. and Thursdays. Offer it for an individual by name. Fasting is one of the most powerful ways of praying. We all eat too much anyway as evidenced by Jesus' story of the rich man and Lazarus. Let's do this together. Love, fr. Dan
